Teachings from the Land

Carolynne Crawley will guide a slow paced sensory walk along the ravine to create opportunities for participants to connect deeper with themselves, each other, and with lands, waters, and beings.

She will share Indigenous perspectives of the importance of being in a healthy and reciprocal relationship with the Earth.

Carolynne is the co-founder of Turtle Protectors and the founder of Msit No'kmaq.

Her work focuses upon reconciling the human impacts upon all of our relations (waters, lands, and beings).
